A Breitling maintenance service includes: cleaning and lubrication of escapement and balance wheel, checking the functional parameters of the movement and various other watch functions, cleaning of the case and metal bracelet, replacement of all gaskets and a water resistance test.

A Breitling overhaul service includes: dismantling, cleaning and checking off all parts, replacement of worn components, assembly and re-lubrication, freshening up of case and metal bracelet, replacement of all gaskets and a water resistance test.

For Breitling Emergency models, the maintenance service includes all the necessary procedures to ensure the correct operation of the instrument, as well as polishing of the case and bracelet - Breitling provides the first maintenance service free of charge two years after purchase.

All work carried out by Breitling UK is guaranteed for a period of 12 months and subject to an additional £20 handling charge to cover postage costs.
